

SILICORNER

ABOUT US

Harmancı Silicone was founded in 2016 by our founders, who have 22 years of experience in the Home and Kitchenware sector, due to the increasing demand for consumer goods that are harmless to human health and nature in the world.

Silicone rubber is produced from silica sand, which is a natural raw material that is harmless to health just like glass, so its usage area is increasing day by day.

Our company also works as a solution partner in the medical, sports equipment, defense industry and automotive sectors in the production of silicone products, including raw material preparation, molding and production, as well as the production of kitchenware under the brand Silicorner.
